MEDIA GUIDE

U.S. OLYMPIC MEN'S HIGHLIGHTS

The 1932 Olympic Winter Games saw the tournament being held on U.S. soil for the first time and the U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team didn't disappoint the home crowd. Team USA finished the tournament with a 4-1-1 record and claimed the silver medal.

After winning the silver medal at the two previous Olympics, the U.S. captured its first-ever gold medal at the VIII Olympic Winter Games. Team USA went through the tournament undefeated and capped off competition with victories over the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia in the medal round.

Team USA, made up of mostly college players, was a heavy underdog as it entered the 1980 Olympic Winter Games. In the semifinal round, the U.S. faced the favored Soviets. After heading into the third period trailing 3-2, the U.S. scored two goals and defeated the Soviets, 4-3, and the "Miracle on Ice" was completed. The U.S. topped Finland two days later to capture its second Olympic gold medal.

At the second Olympic Winter Games where National Hockey League players participated, legendary coach Herb Brooks, who led the Americans to gold in 1980, coached the U.S. to its first medal since the Olympic Winter Games in Lake Placid. The silver medal-winning performance marked the 10th time the U.S. captured an Olympic medal.

USA HOCKEY, INC., is the National Governing Body for the sport of ice hockey in the United States. Its mission is to promote the growth of hockey in America and provide the best possible experience for all participants by encouraging, developing, advancing and administering the sport.

USA Hockey's primary emphasis is on the support and development of grassroots hockey programs. In January 2009, the organization launched the American Development Model, which - for the first time ever - provides associations nationwide with a blueprint for optimal athlete development.

While youth hockey is a main focus, USA Hockey also has vibrant junior and adult hockey programs that provide opportunities for players of all ability levels. The organization also supports a growing disabled hockey program and maintains an inline hockey program to provide structure and support for its growth across the nation.

Beyond serving those who play the game at the amateur level, USA Hockey has certification programs for coaches and officials to ensure education standards are met that coincide with the level of play. Furthermore, a large focus is put on parent education with equipment needs, rules of the game and parental roles in youth sports among common topics.

Members of the organization are entitled to many benefits, including a subscription to USA Hockey Magazine, the most widely circulated hockey publication in the world; excess accident, general liability and catastrophic insurance coverage; access to USAHockey.com; and opportunities to participate in USA Hockey National Championships, as well as player development camps.

USA Hockey is the official representative to the United States Olympic Committee and the International Ice Hockey Federation. In this role, USA Hockey is responsible for organizing and training men's and women's teams for international tournaments, including the IIHF World Championships, and the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. Closer to home, USA Hockey works closely with the National Hockey League and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on matters of mutual interest.

USA Hockey is divided into 12 geographical districts throughout the United States. Each district has a registrar to register teams; a referee-in-chief to register officials and organize clinics; a coach-in-chief to administer education program for coaches; a risk manager to oversee liability and safety programs; and a skill development program administrator to facilitate learn-to-play programs for youth players and their parents.

BRIAN BURKE

GENERAL MANAGER

BRIAN BURKE is making his first Olympic appearance and is serving as the general manager of the 2010 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team.

Burke most recently served as the general manager of the U.S. Men's National Team at the 2009 International Ice Hockey Federation World Men's Championship in Bern and Zurich-Kloten, Switzerland. He was also the general manager for the U.S. Men's National Team at the 1993 IIHF World Men's Championship in Munich and Dortmund, Germany.

Burke's full-time job is as the president and general manager of the National Hockey League's Toronto Maple Leafs, a position he accepted on Nov. 29, 2008, after previously serving as the executive vice president and general manager of the NHL's Anaheim Ducks for three seasons (2005-08). While in Anaheim, Burke led the Ducks to their first-ever Stanley Cup in 2007, the first for a team from California. Additionally, the Ducks made the Stanley Cup Playoffs in each of Burke's seasons with the organization.

Burke went to Anaheim after a six-year stint (1998-2004) as president and general manager of the Vancouver Canucks, revitalizing the team and community en route to consecutive 100+ point seasons and a Northwest Division title in 2003-04.

Under his leadership, the team increased its point total four consecutive years from 1999-2003. Over his last four seasons with the team, Burke engineered four consecutive seasons of at least 90 points. For his efforts, Burke was named by The Sporting News as NHL Executive of the Year in 2001.

Prior to joining the Canucks organization, Burke worked in the NHL front office as senior vice president and director of hockey operations from 1993-98. While at the league office, he served as the chief disciplinarian, ruling on violations for on-ice player conduct. He worked closely with Commissioner Gary Bettman on league direction, including collective bargaining matters.

The Edina, Minn., native was honored with the Lester Patrick Award in 2008 for outstanding service to hockey in the United States. Burke's immediate family includes his wife, Jennifer, and six children, Katie, Patrick, Brendan, Molly, Mairin and Gracie.

In 2005, Poile was selected as one of four NHL general managers to sit on the first NHL competition committee. In this role, he helped usher in a new era of NHL hockey, featuring on-ice innovations such as the regular-season shootout and the elimination of the red line. In 2006-07, The Sporting News recognized Poile as executive of the year.

The medal was the first for the United States in an A-Pool IIHF World Men's Championship since 1962 (excluding Olympic years), when the U.S. also earned the bronze.

Wilson also led the U.S. Men's National Team to fourth-place finishes at the 2009 IIHF World Men's Championship in Bern and Zurich-Kloten, Switzerland, and the 1994 IIHF World Men's Championship in Bolzano, Canazei, and Milan, Italy.

He also served as head coach of Team USA at the 2004 World Cup of Hockey.

Wilson has been involved with USA Hockey since the mid-1970s, having played for the U.S. Men's National Team at four (1975, 1981, 1983, 1987) IIHF World Men's Championships. Wilson also coached the Washington Capitals from 1997-2002, compiling a 192-167-51 record. His tenure was highlighted by the team's only trip to the Stanley Cup Final in 1998.

Prior to spending five seasons with the Capitals, Wilson served as the first head coach of the expansion Mighty Ducks of Anaheim in 1993, leading the team to the postseason for the first time during the 1996-97 season.

In 14 full NHL seasons as a head coach, Wilson's teams have reached the postseason eight times; won four division titles; appeared in the Stanley Cup Final once; reached 90 points seven times and 100 points four times; and reached at least 40 wins seven times and 50 wins once.

XXI OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES

TOURNAMENT FORMAT

Eight teams will participate in the XI Olympic Winter Games, separated into two groups (A and B) based on seeding. The teams will compete in a 20-game schedule, with 12 preliminary round games, four final classification games, two semifinal games, one bronze-medal game and one gold-medal game.

PRELIMINARY ROUND

Competition during the preliminary round (Feb. 13-18) will follow a round-robin tournament format, with each team playing three games within its group. Following the round robin, teams will be ranked within their respective group based upon the points they accumulate in the round.

- Three points shall be awarded for the winning team at the conclusion of regulation.
- One point will be awarded to both teams at the conclusion of regulation if the game is tied.
- An additional point shall be awarded for the team winning the game in the five-minute overtime period, or the game-winning shots procedure if the game is still tied following the conclusion of the overtime period.

PLAYOFF ROUND

All eight teams will advance to the playoff round (Feb. 20 & 22). The top two teams in each group advance to the medal round, while the third- and fourth-place teams from each group will play for positions five through eight in the final classification games. The four teams that advance to the medal round will first play in the semifinal games (Feb. 22), which are a single-elimination crossover format — the first-ranked team from Group A plays the second-ranked team from Group B and vice versa. The winners from the semifinal games will advance to the gold-medal game (Feb. 25), while the losers of the semifinal games will play for the bronze medal (Feb. 25). Meanwhile, the four teams that advance to the final classification games will also play in a crossover format — the third-ranked team from Group A plays the second-ranked team from Group B and vice versa. The winners advance to the fifth-place game (Feb. 22), while the losers will play in the seventh-place game (Feb. 22).

OVERTIME PROCEDURES

- If a preliminary round game is tied after three periods, a five-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime period shall be played immediately after an intermission of three minutes. The teams will defend the same goals as in the third period.
- If a playoff game is tied after three periods, a 10-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime period shall be played immediately after an intermission of three minutes. The teams will defend the same goals as in the third period.
- If the gold-medal game is tied after three periods, a 20-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime will start immediately after a 15-minute intermission during which time the ice will be cleaned. The teams will change ends.
- If no goal is scored in the overtime period of any game, the Game-Winning Shots Procedure will apply.

GAME-WINNING SHOTS PROCEDURE

Shots will be taken at both ends of the ice surface. Three players from each team will take shots alternately until a decisive goal is scored. If the score is still tied after three shots by each team, the procedure will continue with a tiebreak sudden-death shoot-out by one player from each team. The teams may use the same player or new players for each shot in the tiebreak shoot-out, until the outcome is decided.

WOMEN'S TEAM STAFF

GENERAL MANAGER

MICHELE AMIDON began her duties as USA Hockey's first-ever director of women's hockey in August 2006. She is responsible for the management of the women's national team program, including development efforts of both coaches and players.

In early 2008, after Amidon had been in her role with the National Governing Body for just a year and a half, Team USA captured gold medals at both the International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's U18 Championship and the IIHF World Women's Championship. Then, at the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup, Team USA earned its first championship since 2003. In 2009, both the U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team and the U.S. Women's National Team successfully defended their World titles.

A former U.S. Women's National Team player, Amidon spent eight seasons (1998-2006) as the highly successful head coach of the Bowdoin College women's ice hockey team prior to joining USA Hockey's national office staff.

During her nine seasons at Bowdoin — eight as head coach and one as an assistant coach — Amidon led the Polar Bears to unrivaled success. She guided the team to a 140-52-12 overall record, which included four NCAA tournament appearances, two New England Small College Athletic Conference championships and four NESCAC championship-game appearances.

Bowdoin began its rise to national prominence during the 2001-02 season, a year in which Amidon guided the Polar Bears to a school-record 23 victories, the NESCAC championship and the school's first-ever appearance in the NCAA tournament. For her efforts, she was honored as the NESCAC Coach of the Year.

The 2002-03 campaign brought even more success, as Amidon guided Bowdoin back to the NCAA tournament and a third-place national finish. That year, she was named both the NCAA Division III Coach of the Year by the American Hockey Coaches Association and the NESCAC Coach of the Year.

Amidon also has coaching experience at the international level, having served as assistant coach with the U.S. National Women's 22 & Under Team that competed in the 1999 Christmas Cup in Fussen, Germany. In addition, she has been involved as a head coach at USA Hockey's Player Development Camps on several occasions.

Amidon has a multitude of international playing experience on her resume, including winning a silver medal as a member of the U.S. Women's National Team at the 1992 IIHF World Women's Championship.

A 1994 graduate of St. Lawrence University, Amidon was a four-year letter winner and three-year captain of the SLU women's ice hockey team. In her first year with the team, she was voted ECAC Rookie and Division III Player of the Year. Named the ECAC Most Valuable Player as a junior and to the ECAC All-Star Team her senior campaign, Amidon was a three-time MVP of the St. Lawrence team.

HEAD COACH

MARK JOHNSON is among the most accomplished coaches in the world today.

Johnson has been involved as a head coach in the U.S. Women's National Program the past three years. Most recently, he guided the 2009-10 U.S. Women's National Team during its pre-Olympic season that included the Qwest Tour, the 2009 Hockey Canada Cup, the 2009 Four Nations Cup and various other games throughout the U.S. and Canada. The 2009 Hockey Canada Cup resulted in a championship for the U.S., while the 2009 Four Nations Cup saw the Americans garner a second-place finish.

In January of 2009, he guided the U.S. National Under-18 Team to the gold medal at the International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's U18 Championship. He followed by leading the U.S. Women's National Team to gold at the IIHF World Women's Championship just three months later.

Johnson also served as head coach for the U.S. Women's Under-22 Select Team in 2007-08 and piloted Team USA to a second-place finish at the 2006 Four National Cup, as well as the silver medal at the 2007 IIHF World Women's Championship.

Prior to working with the women, Johnson twice served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Men's National Team in the IIHF Men's World Championship (2000, 2002) and also was an assistant coach at the 2001 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Orientation Camp.

Beyond his numerous roles with Team USA, Johnson is the head women's ice hockey coach at the University of Wisconsin. There, Johnson has taken the Badger program to national prominence in his first six years at the helm. Under his guidance, the Badgers have advanced to the NCAA championship game in each of the past four seasons and captured the title in three of those years (2006, 2007, 2009). Since the 2005-06 campaign, Wisconsin has recorded 135 wins, more than any other team in the nation.

SUMMARY

At the first Olympic Winter Games ever to host women's ice hockey, the Americans came in favored to capture the silver medal behind Canada, which had earned gold in four of the world championships to date. The format was such that the six teams would all play each other once to determine who earned a spot in the finale. The U.S. posted 5-0, 7-1 and 4-2 wins over China, Sweden and Finland, then downed host Japan, 10-0, to cement its place in the gold-medal game prior to the last round-robin match-up with Canada. After the Canadians took a 4-1 lead in the friendly match on Feb. 14, the Americans scored six unanswered goals in the final 11:53 of play in the game for a 7-4 win. In the historic gold-medal rematch three days later, Team USA garnered a 3-1 win to cap off its inaugural Olympic performance with a perfect 6-0-0 record.

X PARALYMPIC WINTER GAMES

TOURNAMENT FORMAT

THREE-POINT SYSTEM FOR PRELIMINARY ROUND

- Three points shall be awarded for the winning team at the conclusion of regulation.
- One point will be awarded to both teams at the conclusion of regulation if the game is tied.
- An additional point shall be awarded to the team winning the game in either the overtime period or the Game-Winning Shots Procedure.

OVERTIME PROCEDURES

- If a preliminary round game is tied after three periods, a five-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime period shall be played immediately after an intermission of three minutes. The teams will defend the same goals as in the third period.
- If a semifinal or bronze-medal game is tied after three periods, a 10-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime period shall be played immediately after an intermission of three minutes. The teams will defend the same goals as in the third period.
- If the gold-medal game is tied after three periods, a 15-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime will start immediately after a 15-minute intermission during which time the ice will be cleaned. The teams will change ends.
- If no goal is scored in the overtime period of any game, the Game-Winning Shots Procedure will apply.

GAME-WINNING SHOTS PROCEDURE

- Three players from each team will take shots alternately until a decisive goal is scored. If the score is still tied after three shots by each team, the procedure will continue with a tiebreak sudden-death shootout by one player from each team. The teams must exhaust their rosters before allowing a player to shoot a second time. Should one team have fewer players than its opponent, both teams may recycle shooters once one team has exhausted its roster.

MEDIA GUIDELINES

The 2010 Paralympic Winter Games sled hockey tournament falls under the governance of the International Paralympic Committee.

IPC protocol, as it pertains to media, is as follows:

- All accredited media shall have access to cover team practices, gameday skates and games in conformity with the IPC Handbook. Guidelines for news organizations' broadcast rights can be found at paralympic.org/IPC/IPC_Handbook/.
- Locker rooms are closed to all media.
- All postgame or post-practice player interviews will be conducted in a designated "mixed zone" area within the arena. Requests for interviews with members of the U.S. Paralympic Sled Hockey Team outside of the arena should be directed to Alex Clark at (778) 938-8702 or (847) 302-1116.
- Players and coaches will be made available in the "mixed zone" no later than 10 minutes after the conclusion of a game or practice, with a general media access period of 30 minutes.

USA HOCKEY, INC., is the National Governing Body for the sport of ice hockey in the United States. Its mission is to promote the growth of hockey in America and provide the best possible experience for all participants by encouraging, developing, advancing and administering the sport.

USA Hockey's primary emphasis is on the support and development of grassroots hockey programs. In January 2009, the organization launched the American Development Model, which - for the first time ever - provides associations nationwide with a blueprint for optimal athlete development.

While youth hockey is a main focus, USA Hockey also has vibrant junior and adult hockey programs that provide opportunities for players of all ability levels. The organization also supports a growing disabled hockey program and maintains an inline hockey program to provide structure and support for its growth across the nation.

Beyond serving those who play the game at the amateur level, USA Hockey has certification programs for coaches and officials to ensure education standards are met that coincide with the level of play. Furthermore, a large focus is put on parent education with equipment needs, rules of the game and parental roles in youth sports among common topics.

Members of the organization are entitled to many benefits, including a subscription to USA Hockey Magazine, the most widely circulated hockey publication in the world; excess accident, general liability and catastrophic insurance coverage; access to USAHockey.com; and opportunities to participate in USA Hockey National Championships, as well as player development camps.

USA Hockey is the official representative to the United States Olympic Committee and the International Ice Hockey Federation. In this role, USA Hockey is responsible for organizing and training men's and women's teams for international tournaments, including the IIHF World Championships, and the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. Closer to home, USA Hockey works closely with the National Hockey League and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on matters of mutual interest.

USA Hockey is divided into 12 geographical districts throughout the United States. Each district has a registrar to register teams; a referee-in-chief to register officials and organize clinics; a coach-in-chief to administer education program for coaches; a risk manager to oversee liability and safety programs; and a skill development program administrator to facilitate learn-to-play programs for youth players and their parents.

RON DeGREGORIO

PRESIDENT

RON DeGREGORIO was elected the fourth president in the history of USA Hockey in 2003, after spending a lifetime and career dedicated to advancing the sport of hockey in America.

DeGregorio has been involved in the sport for more than 40 years as a player, coach, administrator and team owner. His first appointment with USA Hockey came in 1973 when he was named registrar for the New England District. DeGregorio was first elected to the USA Hockey Board of Directors in 1975 and was the organization's first vice president of youth hockey. In the 1980s, he served as treasurer of USA Hockey. In 1995, he was elected as a vice president and the international council chairperson, positions he held until being named president.

He has represented the United States at countless events during his tenure with USA Hockey. He served as team leader of Team East at the 1979 United States Olympic Festival, from which the 1980 "Miracle On Ice" U.S. Olympic Ice Hockey Team was chosen, and served in the same capacity for the 1994 U.S. Olympic Ice Hockey Team. DeGregorio has represented the United States at the 1998, 2002 and 2006 Olympic Winter Games and at numerous International Ice Hockey Federation Men's, Women's and Junior World Championships.

Honored with the National Hockey League's Lester Patrick Award in 2002 for outstanding service to ice hockey in the United States, DeGregorio is president of the PenFacs Group, an investment and insurance firm specializing in the design, administration and funding of executive benefit plans.

He resides in Salem, N.H., with his wife, Susan and has four grown children, Eric, Mark, Kim and Kara.

DAVE OGREAN

MEN | WOMEN | SLED

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

DAVE OGREAN, one of the most respected leaders in amateur sports, returned to USA Hockey as executive director on Aug. 1, 2005. He previously held the position from 1993-99 and began his career in the sports industry with the organization (then the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States) as its director of public relations in 1978.

Under his leadership since returning to the organization, USA Hockey created a new department for membership development; began an annual nationwide celebration called Hockey Weekend Across America; hired the first-ever Chief Development Officer for The USA Hockey Foundation; executed a successful bid for the United States to host three World Championships; and led efforts that resulted in USA Hockey gaining responsibility for the selection process and induction event associated with the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame.

Among his many accomplishments during his first term as executive director, Ogrean oversaw a significant increase in membership and revenue, and the construction of the current national headquarters; helped create the National Team Development Program; was a driving force in establishing the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, presented annually to the top player in women's college ice hockey; and developed the concept of STAR (Serving the American Rinks) with U.S. Figure Skating.

Before returning to Colorado Springs, Ogrean served as executive director of USA Football from 2002-2005. He was recruited by the National Football League and NFL Players' Association to build a new, independent, non-profit organization to support and promote the sport of amateur football at all levels.

Prior to joining USA Football, Ogrean served as president and CEO of the Colorado Springs Sports Corporation, where he led the development and creation of the Colorado Springs Sports Hall of Fame and the Rocky Mountain State Games.

From 1999-2000, Ogrean worked for the United States Olympic Committee as deputy executive director of marketing. While there, he led the USOC team that, together with the Salt Lake organizing committee, generated almost $200 million.

Previously, Ogrean served the USOC from 1990-93 as director of broadcasting. He was responsible for creating the initial broadcast division and generated over $12 million in revenue as well as unprecedented exposure for the national governing bodies of Olympic sports.

From 1980-88, Ogrean worked at ESPN in corporate communications and programming.

Following a successful eight years at ESPN, Ogrean joined the College Football Association as assistant executive director for television. During his two-year tenure, he worked with CBS Sports on remote production, with CBS and ESPN on game scheduling and selection and helped launch the syndicated series, "This Week in College Football."

Ogrean received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of Connecticut (1974) and his master's degree in film from Boston University (1978).

Listed among The Sporting News' Top 100 Most Powerful People in Sports from 1993-99, Ogrean is currently among The Hockey News' Top 50 People of Power and Influence. He is a member of the nominating committee for the U.S. Olympic Hall of Fame and in the fall of 2009 served on the Selection Committee for the USOC CEO search.

He and his wife, Maryellen, have three grown children, Matt, Tracy and Dana.

TONY ROSSI

VICE PRESIDENT, INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL CHAIR

Outside of a highly successful business career, TONY ROSSI has generously donated significant time, resources and expertise to USA Hockey for more than 30 years at the grassroots and executive leadership levels.

After beginning his volunteer career with the National Governing Body in the mid-1970s, Rossi was elected to the USA Hockey Board of Directors in 1983 and served as a director from the Central District until 1988. In 1989, he was elected to the USA Hockey Executive Committee, serving as secretary from 1989-95. In 1995, Rossi transitioned to the role of USA Hockey treasurer, a position he held until June 2003.

In his role as both secretary and treasurer, Rossi helped guide the formation and growth of The USA Hockey Foundation, a charitable and educational non-profit corporation that provides long-range financial support for USA Hockey and promotes the growth of hockey in the United States.

In June of 2003, Rossi was elected to his current post as USA Hockey vice president and international council chair. In his role, Rossi works closely with the organization's National and Olympic Team programs, as well as the International Ice Hockey Federation during a host of global competitions held throughout the year. He was elected to the IIHF Council in May of 2008.

Rossi also serves as president for RMK Management Corporation and Moran & Company.

WALTER L. BUSH, JR.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

One of the most recognized and respected leaders in hockey, WALTER L. BUSH, JR., is the chairman of the board for USA Hockey, a position he has held since June 2003.

Bush, who served as a member of the organization's Board of Directors from 1959-2003, became president of USA Hockey in June 1986, following Wm. Thayer Tutt and Tom Lockhart. He served in the capacity for 17 years before taking his current position as chairman of the board. In recognition of his 45th year of service to USA Hockey, the organization dedicated its national headquarters as The Walter L. Bush, Jr. Center in June 1999.

Bush retired as a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation Council in May 2008 after a 23-year stint, the last 14 years as a vice president of the organization. He served on numerous committees within the IIHF, including as chairman of the IIHF Women's Ice Hockey Committee, the IIHF InLine Hockey Committee and the IIHF Hall of Fame Selection Committee.

Bush is a member of the Board of Directors of the USOC and is secretary of the U.S. Olympic Foundation. During the 2002 Olympic Winter Games, Bush received the Olympic Order from the International Olympic Committee, the highest honor in the Olympic movement.

AS HOCKEY HAS GROWN dramatically in the United States over the last three decades, structure and training methods have simply evolved without a scientifically-based plan to help players reach their full potential. How players are trained varies widely across the country, and in some cases, counterproductive elements have crept into those methods.

In an effort to create a unified program for developing hockey players at all ages and levels, USA Hockey, with support from the National Hockey League, has created the American Development Model. The ADM is a nationwide initiative that provides local associations across the country — for the first time ever — a blueprint for optimal athlete development that focuses on age-appropriate training.

Utilizing long-term athlete development principles, the American Development Model looks to bolster the quantity and quality of American players. The model focuses on developing skills based upon physical and psychological growth, not chronological age.

The American Development Model provides a youth club structure to all associations across the country and integrates training, competition and recovery with relation to biological development and maturation, while offering equal opportunity for recreation and competition.

Launched in January 2009, the American Development Model will positively modify the hockey culture in the United States and help every player reach their full potential.

"PEOPLE COMPARE ME WITH MY OLDER BROTHER. HE SKATES FASTER, BUT WHEN IT COMES TO ART I DRAW CIRCLES AROUND HIM. SO REALLY THERE'S NO COMPARISON."

Let's unlock each kid's boundless potential, on the ice and off. The American Development Model (ADM) provides age-appropriate guidelines and curriculum to hockey associations across America to help more kids play, love and excel at hockey. Learn more at admkids.com.

NHL Draft Impact

166 players drafted including 33 first-round picks; Three players were selected first overall: Patrick Kane (CHI 2007), Erik Johnson (STL 2006) and Rick DiPietro (NYI 2000)

IN 1996, USA Hockey launched a revolutionary new initiative called the National Team Development Program, based in Ann Arbor, Mich. In its 13th season of play in 2009-10, the goal of this full-time development program is to prepare student-athletes under the age of 18 for participation on U.S. National Teams and success in their future hockey careers. Its efforts focus not only on high-caliber participation on the ice, but creating well-rounded individuals off the ice.

The program is composed of two squads - the U.S. National Under-18 and Under-17 Teams. The Under-17 Team competes in the United States Hockey League and also participates in three international events annually. The U.S. National Under-18 Team's schedule includes games against NCAA Division I and III opponents, contests vs. USHL teams, as well as competition in three international tournaments.

The Ann Arbor Ice Cube, a first-class facility consisting of three ice sheets, locker rooms, offices, a training area and weight room is home to the NTDP. Unlike other competitive athletic teams, the success of the NTDP is not gauged on wins and losses. Instead, the focus is on the development of skills and acquiring experience against older competitors.

"The National Team Development Program provides a tremendous opportunity for the elite young players in our country," said Ron DeGregorio, president of USA Hockey. "We've developed many programs over the years at USA Hockey and the NTDP is among our very best initiatives."

WHAT THE PROGRAM HAS MEANT

In evaluating how the NTDP has impacted hockey in the United States, consider:

- The U.S. has won the gold medal at the IIHF World Men's Under-18 Championship in 2002, 2005, 2006 and 2009, with each team comprised primarily of NTDP players.
- The U.S., with a team comprised largely of NTDP players, captured its first-ever gold medal at the IIHF World Junior Championship in 2004.
- In 2008-09, more than 45 NTDP alumni were playing in the National Hockey League.

THE PATTY KAZMAIER
MEMORIAL AWARD

AN AWARD OF The USA Hockey Foundation, the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award has been presented annually to the top player in NCAA Division I women's ice hockey since 1998, with selection criteria including individual and team skills, sportsmanship, performance in the clutch, personal character, competitiveness and a love for the sport.

The award is named in honor of the late Patty Kazmaier, a women's hockey star and gifted scholar-athlete who attended Princeton University in the early 1980s.

A four-year varsity ice hockey letter-winner, Kazmaier anchored the Princeton defense and led the Tigers to the Ivy League Championship in three consecutive seasons (1982-84). She earned All-Ivy League Honorable Mention honors as a freshman and was named to the All-Ivy League Second Team in both her sophomore and junior seasons. After a one-year hiatus, Kazmaier returned to the Tigers and was named to the All-Ivy League First Team and the All-Eastern College Athletic Conference First Team as a senior in 1985-86. She was also honored as the Ivy League Most Valuable Player.

Kazmaier battled a rare blood disease for more than a year before passing away in 1990 at the age of 28.

Presented at an award ceremony in conjunction with the NCAA Women's Frozen Four in late March, the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award has been bestowed upon 12 exceptional athletes since its inception in 1998. Of those women, Angela Ruggiero (2004), Julie Chu (2007) and Jessie Vetter (2009) will represent the United States at the 2010 Olympic Winter Games.

Other previous Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award recipients include two-time Olympians Krissy Wendell (2005) and A.J. Mleczo (1999).

The 2010 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award will be presented in Minneapolis, Minn., on March 20.

2009 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award winner and Team USA member Jessie Vetter with USA Hockey President, Ron DeGregorio.

ON DECEMBER 1, 2009, the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame inducted three players, a builder and a team as its Class of 2009. These individuals helped grow the game in countless ways, whether by eroding traditional gender barriers exciting millions of fans or simply making the game more accessible to all. These great contributors were officially inducted in a ceremony at The Westin Boston Waterfront Hotel.

The 1998 U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team captured the first-ever gold medal presented in women's ice hockey at an Olympic Winter Games, posting a perfect 6-0-0 record and defeating arch-rival Canada, 3-1, in the gold-medal game. Since the team's victory, girls' and women's hockey player registration in America has more than doubled.

Tony Amonte played 16 years in the NHL, amassing 900 career points (11th most among American-born players), making five all-star teams and breaking the 30-goal mark eight times. The two-time Olympian (1998, 2002) famously scored the game-winning goal in Team USA's victory over Canada to clinch the 1996 World Cup of Hockey. He also played on 2004 World Cup Team, two U.S. Men's National Teams (1991, 1993) and two U.S. National Junior Teams (1989, 1990).

Tom Barrasso, a two-time Stanley Cup champion with the Pittsburgh Penguins (1991, 1992), ranks first among U.S.-born goaltenders with 61 playoff victories and second with 369 NHL regular-season wins. He also helped the U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team capture silver at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. The only goaltender to play in the NHL directly from high school, Barrasso also played for the 1983 U.S. National Junior Team.

John LeClair, the first American-born player ever to record three straight 50-goal seasons (1995-98), ranks 13th among U.S.-born players with 819 career points. He led the silver medal-winning U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team with six goals at the 2002 Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. He was also a member of the 1998 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team, the 1996 World Cup Team and two U.S. National Junior Teams (1988, 1989).

Frank Zamboni patented the world's first self-propelled ice resurfacing machine after opening his own skating rink in Southern California in 1940. The Zamboni was introduced to the world at the 1960 Olympic Winter Games in Squaw Valley, Calif., and was named the "Official Ice Resurfer of the NHL" in 2002. Zamboni passed away in 1988 at the age of 87.

THE USA HOCKEY FOUNDATION

THE USA HOCKEY FOUNDATION plays a vital role in advancing the sport of hockey in the United States by providing long-range financial support for USA Hockey's programs and initiatives. These diverse groups include participation, player development, opportunity, education, safety and commemoration.

USA Hockey's grassroots programs are aimed at increasing participation, improving skills and creating a responsible environment for the conduct of youth hockey. Through initiatives like the American Development Model, Affiliate Block Grant Program and OneGoal, USA Hockey looks to making the game more affordable, getting more kids of both genders to try the sport and convincing current athletes to continue playing into the future.

Elite player development has become paramount for USA Hockey's success as men's and women's teams are selected and trained to represent the United States at the Olympic, World, Junior and Under-18 levels of international competition. In 2009, USA Hockey enjoyed unparalleled success, with the U.S. Women's National Team, U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team, U.S. Men's National Under-18 Team and U.S. National Sled Hockey Team all winning gold medals at world championships. Success followed USA Hockey into 2010 with the U.S. National Junior Team winning gold at the 2010 IIHF World Junior Championship.

Through the U.S. Women's National Program's residency training program in Blaine, Minn., and the National Team Development Program in Ann Arbor, Mich., USA Hockey is selecting and training the United States' best players and preparing them for world success.

In addition, The USA Hockey Foundation supports all four disciplines of disabled hockey, including standing amputee hockey, sled hockey, deaf and hard of hearing hockey, and special hockey. With programs like Ice Hockey in Harlem, the Fort Dupont Cannons hockey program in Washington, D.C., and USA Warriors Ice Hockey, USA Hockey and The USA Hockey Foundation are committed to giving everyone an opportunity to play hockey, regardless of physical or financial limitations.

USA Hockey also provides education for coaches, officials, parents and athletes. Structured national education programs for coaches and officials insure excellence and consistency throughout amateur hockey for these important positions. These programs are provided locally across the country as well as online through a virtual resource center. In addition, the Coaching Education Program is currently redesigning its coaching materials to include the long-term athlete development principles that are the cornerstone of the American Development Model.

Furthermore, The USA Hockey Foundation supports safety and protective equipment research and education to make the game as safe a possible for all participants. Specific initiatives include the "Heads Up" education program, concussion prevention education, CPR training at summer camps, studies of neck laceration injuries and guards, and the installation of defibrillators (AEDs) in rinks across the country.

The USA Hockey Foundation is also involved with several commemorative programs, including the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame, the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, the Lester Patrick Award, the Dave Peterson Memorial Fund and Coaches Symposium, and the Brian Fishman Internship and Memorial Fund. These programs honor the best and the brightest in the hockey community.
